

Use Dijkstra's shortest path first algorithm to find the shortest path from computer A to every other computer in the network below. At each stage of the algorithm, clearly show the "candidate set" and the "shortest path" set. Assume all the links are bidirectional and symmetric (i.e. the cost of using a link is the same in both directions).

